Reviews

An extremely awesome publication with lucid and perfect explanations. It is actually written in basic phrases rather than confusing. You will like how the writer publishes this book.

Of t time we are finding more sorrow than joy, While our way through the world we are wending; There s often much pleasure but more to annoy; And together they often are blending. Of t times we are looking for something beyond, And from it much pleasure we borrow; When the future comes round there s naught in the fund, And our hopes lie dead for the morrow. Of t times when we think we are holding but gold, And on it, high hopes we are building; It proves in the end we ve sadly been sold, - Tis but dross, thin plated with gilding. Then some are professing the warmest of love, And we in return are believing; But when we are thinking them true as the dove, The while they are only deceiving. Still we find much honor and truth in the world, While onward in life we are moving; Deception and falsehood shall downward be hurled, While true friendship itself shall be proving. But, in converse sometimes our friends we offend, By misunderstandings arising; Don t argue the case, matters sooner will mend, To let them go on with surmising. If so little we find in this valley of tears, To cheer, while in darkness we re groping; There s something for us in the coming of years, For which ev ry one should be hoping. But while we are hoping right on for the best, If the storms of life we d out weather, If at last in peace we would lie down to rest, Faith and works should now go...
