

On Either Side, 1939: The Train Between London King's Cross & Edinburgh Waverley, Fort William, Inverness & Aberdeen

By London & North Eastern Railway, Frank Newbould

Osprey Publishing. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, On Either Side, 1939: The Train Between London King's Cross & Edinburgh Waverley, Fort William, Inverness & Aberdeen, London & North Eastern Railway, Frank Newbould, This is a nostalgic pre-war journey on the 'Flying Scotsman', from London King's Cross (via York, Durham and Newcastle) to Edinburgh and beyond. Including a colour fold-out map of the old LNER system, it is the perfect guide for any time traveller boarding a train on today's railway. Famous engines like the Flying Scotsman, The Coronation and the Mallard have sped up and down the East Coast of Britain, between London and Edinburgh, for more than 150 years. The mere mention of the service - itself known as the Flying Scotsman - evokes the romance of long night-time journeys beginning in one capital city and ending in another, journeys that traverse some of the most beautiful and diverse landscapes that the British Isles have to offer. For anyone interested in Britain's social or railway history there could be no better guide to the route than this book: first published in 1939 by the LNER itself, beautifully illustrated and with a cover by the renowned poster artist Frank...

READ ONLINE
[8.86 MB]

Reviews

Most of these publication is the ideal ebook readily available. it was actually writtern very flawlessly and beneficial. I discovered this book from my i and dad suggested this book to find out.

-- Prof. Lavern Brakus

Undoubtedly, this is the best work by any author. It is really simplified but shocks within the 50 % in the publication. Its been written in an extremely straightforward way and is particularly just following i finished reading this publication by which basically altered me, modify the way in my opinion.

-- Vivianne Dietrich