Reports of officers for the year 1893-94 were presented as follows: Prof. H. F. Osborn, Second Vice-President, reported on the evident increase of interest in science in New York, remarked on the success of the Public Lecture Course, and alluded to the First Annual Reception and Exhibition of the Academy arranged for March 12th, 1894. Report Of The Corresponding Secretary. During the past year two corresponding members have been elected, viz. : Prof. C. H. Smyth, Jr. , on March 6th, and J. P. Thomson, November 6th. These members were duly notified of their election. Several corresponding members have died during the year, among whom we must deplore the loss of Dr. H. A. Hagen, of Cambridge, Mass. As editor of the Annals, I have to report that Aol. VII. is practically completed, and that the index and title-page of Vol. VI. will be issued...
