Boydell Brewer Ltd, United Kingdom, 2003. Hardback. Book Condition: New. New.. 236 x 162 mm. Language: French,Latvian,English . Brand New Book. The goldsmiths of London had formed an organised guild, or mistery (in the medieval sense of craft or profession) by the twelfth century. Granted their first royal charter in 1327 by Edward III, they are one of the twelve great livery companies, and still oversee the work of goldsmiths, silversmiths and jewellers. Published here for the first time are their two earliest record books, presented in the original languages, French (Anglo-Norman), English and Latin, with a facing-page translation into modern English. From these full records valuable and lively detail emerges: the working practices of gold and silversmiths, the financial accounts of the wardens, apprentices admitted, participation in civic events such as pageants, and records of offences (both professional and personal) brought before the disciplinary court. The edition is accompanied by a full introduction, a bibliography, a subject index and a complete name index. LISA JEFFERSON, MA, D Phil, FSA, is a medievalist who works both in Oxford and in France. Reviews A monumental work of transcription and translation.A model of fine editorial scholarship. ENGLISH HISTORICAL REVIEW A treasure trove of information about the internal working of a major urban gild.We owe a considerable debt to an editor who has made so much material available for economic and urban historians. MEDIEVAL REVIEW [The author] has done a useful job in producing a text and a translation that bring this remarkable body of material within the range of students and scholars. URBAN HISTORY.
